when they come to town.

David Owen is an imposing six-footer with a marvelous Santa Claus white beard. He is particularly endearing to audiences of children, he delights in bringing out joyous laughter in each of them.

“I enjoy putting smiles on their faces,” says David. “especially the sad ones. There’s nothing better than that. They loved to be dazzled by disappearing coins that suddenly appear behind their ears.”

Rope tricks, vanishing decks of cards, table-side or on stage, plus news tricks every year are David’s stock in trade, a crowd pleaser who loves making people happy ...†
